Brooklyn Nets HSS Training Center

When planning out their new HSS Training Center in Brooklyn, New York, the Brooklyn Nets were looking for an acoustical solution for their practice facility. Robert Zalewski, of Zalex LLC, suggested CLIPSO black acoustic (495D) fabric and LA 53 acoustical batting. This fabric was quickly installed on both sides of the practice court, giving the space a stylish and sharp look as well as good sound qualities. The practice court made its debut at the Grand Opening ceremony on February 17, 2016. Zalex LLC also completed the video conference room of the training center as well, using CLIPSO acoustic 495D fabric in white.

CLIPSO Acoustic

CLIPSO's acoustic optimization technology helped to make the Nets' practice court the ideal mix of stylish and comfortable. CLIPSO acoustic coverings are highly micro-perforated to improve acoustic performance, and when they are combined with acoustical batting, NRC's (Noise Reduction Coefficients) can reach 1.05!

The possibilities are endless when using the CLIPSO system for your decor. Acoustic coverings are available in many colors, are able to be custom printed, and can be used for anything from wide-span surfaces to clouds and partitions. CLIPSO acoustical batting is non-fibrous, light-weight and easy to install. It improves acoustic performance further by absorbing sound waves that pass through the covering.
