Corporate Lobbies

Corporate Lobbies: Corporate lobbies are the face of a company. They are the first impression people get of your organization and a terrific opportunity for innovative lighting, or branding using your company logo, colors or other images that portray and support your company's mission statement. Trust the CLIPSO team to help bring your company image to life.

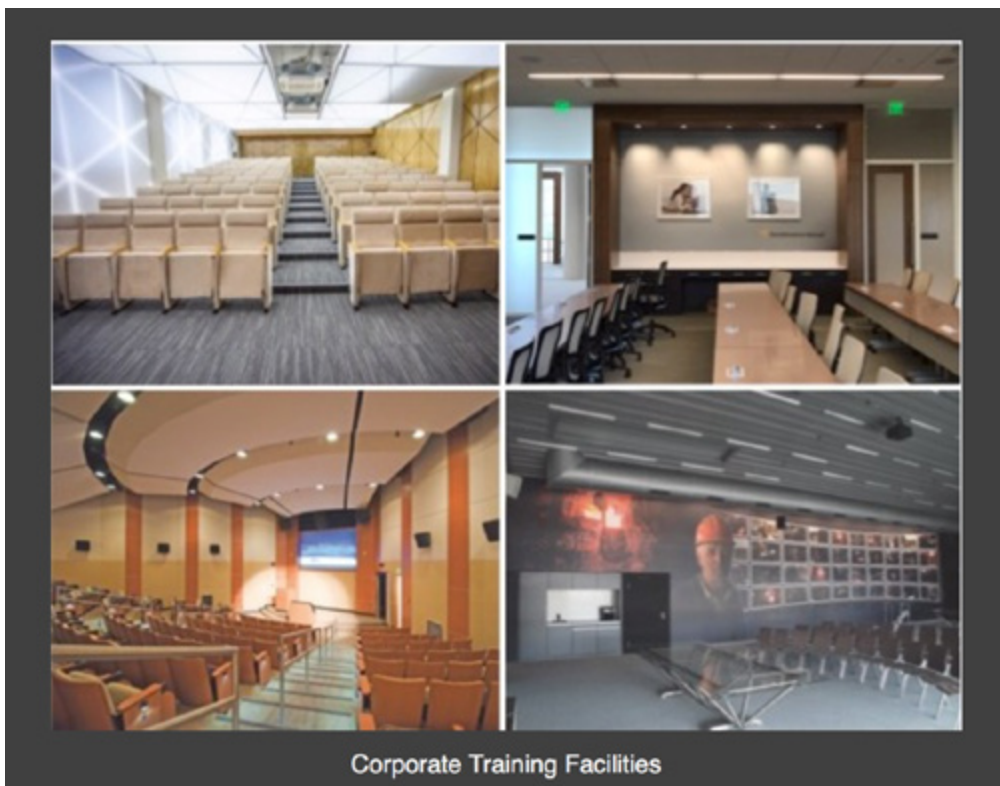

Corporate Boardrooms

Corporate Boardrooms: Boardrooms are an integral part of the corporate world and should provide an environment conducive to strong communications. CLIPSO coverings help by providing an acoustic solution and NRC values of up to 1.05.

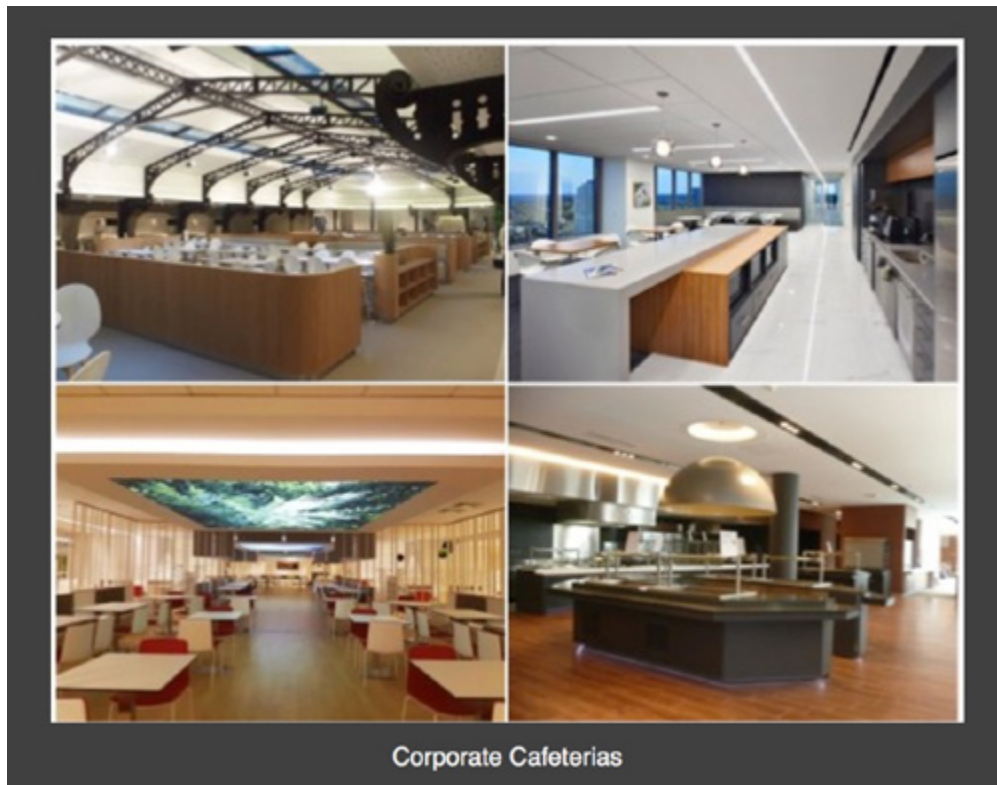

Corporate Offices

Corporate Offices: Offices and workspaces are truly the hands of an organization. This is where company plans are executed and where employees spend most of their time. These spaces must contribute to employee concentration, productivity and provide a pleasant working environment.

Corporate Training Facilities

Corporate Training Facilities: Corporate auditoriums and training facilities are typically larger spaces with many people. They should provide an environment essential to learning and attention should be given when designing these spaces to allow for proper acoustics. Engineering for acoustics is always easiest in the design phase, but CLIPSO allows you to easily renovate an existing space to meet any acoustic or other needs.

Corporate Cafeterias

Corporate Cafeterias: Corporate cafeterias and employee break rooms truly are the heart and soul of an organization. It's where employees go to nourish and refresh and these areas should be clean and welcoming. CLIPSO offers an antibacterial covering which inhibits the proliferation of germs making it the perfect choice for cafeterias, lounges, or anywhere employees might be eating or congregating.

THE SIMPLE SOLUTION!

The CLIPSO system of profiles, coverings, and acoustic insulation is fast and simple to install. It does not emit any odors or harmful VOCs and can be installed during off-hours so your business need never be disrupted. It truly is the ideal solution for any corporate environment.
