SO DECO

Custom Print Solutions

By CLIPSO®

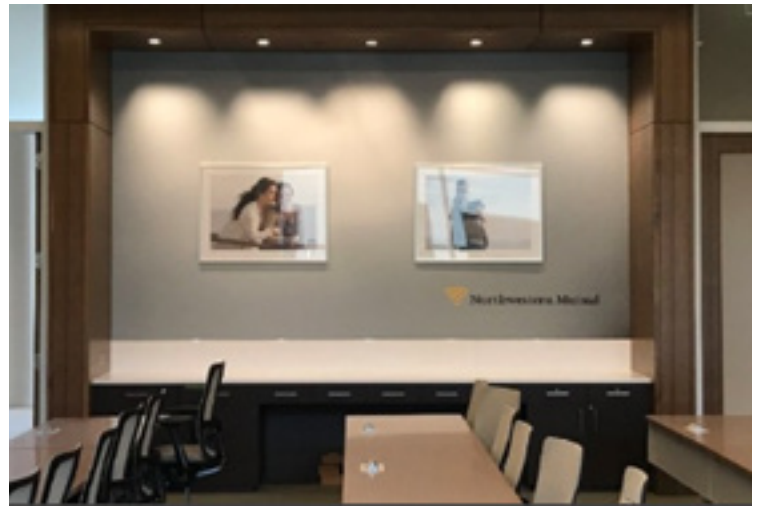

Loews Hotel, Miami Beach, FL
Installer: International Acoustics Company

Adding art, digital imagery or branding to an interior decor has become popular for both aesthetic and practical purposes. Evidence-based design is defined as the process of basing decisions about the built environment on credible research to achieve the best possible outcomes (www.healthdesign.org). Although evidence-based design was originally conceived for the healthcare industry with the concept that patients heal faster when nature is brought indoors, the concept has expanded well beyond healthcare. Evidence-based design is now used when designing learning environments, work environments, restaurants and so on.

CLIPSO® can print virtually any image, whether it is from our online image collection, a stock image, a museum masterpiece or it is something you've created with a camera or paintbrush. Since most CLIPSO coverings are printable, the possibilities are endless with CLIPSO.

Beyond creating exceptional interior environments, CLIPSO strives to preserve the environment for future generations. The CLIPSO system of profiles, coverings, and acoustic insulation is fast and simple to install. CLIPSO coverings contribute to LEED compliance and are 100% rapidly renewable. They do not emit any odors or harmful VOCs and can be installed during off-hours so your business need never be disrupted. It truly is the ideal solution for your custom print needs.

Whether you are looking to update the interior of a luxury hotel restaurant or brand your corporate training room, CLIPSO® has you covered! Count on CLIPSO to bring your creative ideas to life!
